Review of an eventful Balancer Day

on 24-05-2019, we opened our doors for our business partners, colleagues and friends of the Carl Stahl Group. Numerous participants from Germany, France and Switzerland took this opportunity to learn more about the Kromer DNA.

The day started with an inspiring, humorous and interactive keynote speech by sales expert and mentalist Jakob Lipp. With lots of charm, intellect and sensitivity, Mr. Lipp created a great atmosphere right from the start, encouraging lateral, different thinking.

Mutual getting to know each other, discussing together, a lively exchange with each other and many other exciting program items such as special sales training, a journey into the past of Kromer and numerous experience stands in production, assembly, quality assurance and construction made the Balancer Day an extraordinary day.

We are very happy about the consistently positive feedback from our guests and would like to take this opportunity to thank all the support from our employee who made this event a special one.

It was a pleasure having you here Carl Stahl Group.
